Our Vision

The Colorado Springs World Affairs Council is dedicated to preparing this and the next generation to be more informed citizens of a global power, and more effective participants in a global marketplace.

Our Mission

To create and sustain greater study, discussion, and public participation in international relations.

Programs

- ◆ Speaker Programs: Internationally renowned speakers present their perspectives on topics of worldwide importance, and engage in dialogue with members.
- ◆ Education Programs: Engaging local high school and college students on global issues is a critical part of the CSWAC mission. The following programs are made possible by a grant from the Jim and Diane Cameron Education Contributors and other members' donations to the CSWAC Education Fund:
 - Complimentary Student Participation at Ambassador Luncheons
 - High School Symposium
 - Academic WorldQuest
 - Model United Nations
 - World Affairs Challenge
- ◆ Discussion Groups: Small discussion groups in members' homes to examine contemporary global issues.
- ◆ International Visitor Leadership: Through the Colorado Springs Committee for International Visitors, members have the opportunity to meet leaders in business, government, education, and culture.

Srdja Popovic and Slobodan Dinovic were honored guests at the May 2, 2011 COSWAC luncheon. They are founders of the OTPOR! (resistance) movement in Serbia and credited with initiating the successful non-violent overthrow of Slobodan Milošević. They also advised the organizers of Arab Spring uprising in Egypt in the Spring of 2011.
